SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA — THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1958

16 PAGES — Vol. 51, No. 21

Royal Court Chosen In Wistaria Festival

One true blonde, three near ones, and a brownette will form the royal court of the 1958 Wistaria Vine Festival.

Selecting from a record turnout of 27 contestants, judges yesterday revealed names of the princesses who will reign during the six-week festival, opening tomorrow.

THEY ARE: Christine Dinwiddie, 15, 1320 Tropical, Pasadena, the blonde; Meredith Mitchell, 17, 3865 Greenhill Road, Pasadena, the brownette.

Also, Janet Dickson, 15, 430 E. Laurel, Sierra Madre; Linda Nehls, 17, 615 E. Orange Grove, Sierra Madre, and Susan Glass, 15, 1320 Rodeo Road, Arcadia.

One of the five will be named queen of the festival Thursday, March 13. All live within the ELgin telephone exchange, and attend local schools.

JUDGES WERE Larry Bevington, city administrator; Robert Green, Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce; Harry Elwood, Sierra Madre News publisher, and Robert Lane and Don Jackson, merchants.

Virginia Summers, festival manager, reminded guests that the historic vine is now 65 years of age, eligible for "cultural security," and all persons 65 or over will be admitted free to the grounds.

Cabral Exhibit At Library This Month

A one-man show of oil paintings by Californian Flavio Cabral will occupy the Sierra Madre Library gallery during March.

The showing opened to the public at 2 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, with a reception for the artist lasting until 5. The paintings will remain through April 4.

CABRAL teaches art at the Los Angeles Valley Junior College in Van Nuys. His painting, "Conversation No. 5," a rather classical rendering of a group of women, was one of the more popular entries in Sierra Madre's 1957 Purchase Prize show.

He has had showings in leading galleries, including the Los Angeles and Pasadena Art Museums, the Santa Barbara Museum, and the Palacio de Bellas Artes in Mexico City.

Plan Special Girl Scout Week Events

National Girl Scout Week will be celebrated from March 9-15, by Sierra Madre girls, starting with Girl Scout Sunday, March 9.

On that day, scouts will attend church services in uniform as individuals or in troops, scheduled as follows:

Bethany Church, 11 a.m. service; Church of the Ascension, 9 a.m. service; First Congregational Church, 11 a.m. service; and St. Rita's Church, 8:30 a.m. Mass.

Girl Scout exhibits will be on display during the week at Garland's, Perry's, S.M. Paint and Wallpaper, H. C. Reavis' Office, Reece's Variety Store.

Mrs. James Winslow, Mrs. Herbert Hargrave and James Abernethy formed the committee planning Girl Scout Week activities.

Local Girl Scouts Join Pasadena Council

The Sierra Madre Girl Scout Association Board held its final meeting as an independent unit last Monday at the home of Mrs. Clifford Sweet, 702 Ramona.

As a result of seven years of thorough study and investigation and in line with recommendation from national headquarters for units to merge when it is advantageous, the Board adopted the following resolution, subsequent to previous vote of approval for the merger, by both the Board and the Association:

WHEREAS the date for renewal of the national charter of the Sierra Madre Council of Girl Scouts expired Jan. 31, 1958,

WHEREAS the Sierra Madre Council of Girl Scouts made application on Jan. 20, 1958, to join the Pasadena Area Girl Scout Council, and

WHEREAS the Pasadena Area Girl Scout Council acted affirmatively on Feb. 5, 1958, now be it resolved that the Sierra Madre Council of Girl Scouts declares itself to be dissolved.

Sierra Madre Girl Scout Council, under the merger, becomes a neighborhood unit in the North District of the Pasadena Area Girl Scout Council, similar in form to the Camp Fire groups and Boy Scout groups of this community.

It takes into the new setup an active Girl Scout unit with a vertical organization encompassing all levels of girl scouting, which has been considered ideal, and is the only such unit in the Pasadena 44 neighborhood system. There is also a strong supporting adult organization, with many trained volunteer leaders.

In effect, the Girl Scout program in Sierra Madre remains substantially as it was, with the added advantages of more complete training opportunities for leaders and better professional coordination, established Girl Scout mountain camps and day camps, and a wider senior scouting program, which includes Mariner, Mountaineer and Trailblazer Troops.

Candidate Night Set Monday

The mayor, city councilmen and nine candidates for three Council vacancies will speak Monday night, March 10, at 8 o'clock in the Sierra Madre School cafeteria.

The meeting, sponsored by the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council, originally was scheduled for Tuesday, March 11, but that date conflicted with a City Council meeting and was changed.

ALL CANDIDATES are expected to outline their reasons for seeking council posts and to explore some of the problems facing the city. Mayor James will explain the duties and responsibilities of councilmen.

Dr. Paul Narocowich, president of the Coordinating Council, is in charge of arrangements.

Candidates will appear again on March 17 before members of the Civic Service Group in the basement of the Congregational Church.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR Lawrence C. Bevington will present both sides of the proposition regarding the election or appointment of the city clerk and city treasurer, an issue which will be decided by the voters April 8.

The Civic Service meeting begins with dinner at 6:45 p.m.

Candidates for Council are James McCoy, William Lisle, Delbert Watts, Clifford Stowell, Jr., Milton Emerson, James Abernethy, George T. Fleming, Frank R. Parks and Albert Myers. Lisle is the incumbent.

Little League Sets Rummage Sale March 28-29

The Sierra Madre Baseball Association, directors of the Little League and Babe Ruth League, are sponsoring a rummage sale, set tentatively for March 28 and 29 in the former location of Arnold's Hardware on Baldwin Ave.

Items for sale may be turned in at the Wistaria Cab Co. office.

Little League tryouts will be continued this Saturday for all boys 10 years and under who wish to play. They should report with baseball gloves to the Sierra Madre School at 9 a.m.

Tryouts for the Babe Ruth League will also be continued at 9 a.m. on Saturday in the City Ball Park. Nearly 50 boys took part in tryouts last Saturday.

There still is an urgent need for more adult supervisors in both leagues.

It's No Burglar, Mom, Only Me, Your Son!

Bill Van Meter and his 10-year old son, Bill, II, arrived last Sunday evening, shortly before 10 p.m., for a surprise visit with his mother, Mrs. Claude Miller, 70 W. Highland.

When the door-bell rang, Mrs. Miller looked out the window, thought they were prowlers and promptly called the police. The arrival of Officer David Benscoter settled the "crime." The only remaining question is "who surprised whom."

The Van Meter family lives in San Diego where Bill is serving a tour of duty in the Naval Hospital.

Demos OK Rudd Brown For Congress

The 21st Congressional District Democratic Council endorsed for Congress last Sunday Mrs. Rudd Brown, vice-chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and resident of La Canada, it was announced by John F. McKenna, Jr., council chairman. She will oppose Edgar W. Hiestand, 21st District Republican, in the Congressional election in November. William Stethem, unsuccessful candidate on the Democratic ticket in the last election, previously announced his intention to run.

MRS. BROWN volunteered for Navy service following her graduation from Barnard College in 1941 and was stationed in Washington, D.C., as a communications officer. She has taught school both in this country and Iraq, and for two and a half years worked as technical editor in the Institute for Nuclear Studies at the University of Chicago.

Her husband is Harrison Brown, author and professor of geochemistry at the California Institute of Technology. Mrs. Brown, McKenna said, comes from a political family. Her grandfather was William Jennings Bryan, candidate for President of the United States and secretary of state in Woodrow Wilson's administration.

Her mother, Ruth Bryan Owen, congresswoman from Florida for two terms, was appointed minister to Denmark by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

MRS. BROWN is a member of the League of Women Voters, the Pasadena Art Museum, the Pasadena Art Alliance, the Barnard College Club and the La Canada Chamber of Commerce.

Local participants in the endorsement were delegates from the Altadena Adlai Stevenson Democratic Club, the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club, Sierra Madre Democratic Club and Monrovia Democratic Club.

Board Plans Joint Session on Tuition

Meeting Scheduled To Probe School Rate

Sierra Madre School Board members will meet with the Pasadena Board of Education this month to work out an agreement on the cost of educating our seventh and eighth graders.

This was the action taken by the Sierra Madre Board Monday night after School Superintendent Lowell Jackson informed members that Pasadena must receive more money from Sierra Madre.

Under an agreement worked out between Dr. Jackson and Pasadena school officials, Sierra Madre would have to pay $47,000 next year to educate our junior high school students, compared with $34,000 we are now paying.

IN FOUR YEARS, we possibly would be paying $70,796 a year—the amount it actually costs Pasadena to educate junior high pupils. This is equivalent to a substantial increase in our school tax rate.

It was pointed out, however, by Dr. Jackson and by Mrs. Grace Vane, a member of the audience, that assessed valuation is going up 10 per cent. Thus, she said, this additional income should cover the cost for the first year, at least.

Dr. Jackson pointed out, however, that as assessed valuation increases, the amount of state equalization aid Sierra Madre gets will decrease.

This means, according to Dr. Jackson's estimate, that the added burden next year will amount to around $8,000. It will go up each year after that for the next four years.

SIERRA MADRE will have to pay more because of a change in the state law.

The new law permits school districts to agree mutually to a tuition cost figure. If agreement cannot be reached, county school officials have the authority to establish a rate.

Formerly, we paid Pasadena the amount it cost Sierra Madre to educate its elementary school, or $316.37 a pupil per year. Pasadena has set $472 as the actual per pupil cost for educating our seventh and eighth graders.

"I think this new state law," he said, "is a subtle move on the part of the state to force unification."

IT WOULD be almost impossible for Sierra Madre to unify, he explained, because that would require the construction of a high school and 30 to 40 acres of land, an expensive proposition. In addition, it's doubtful whether 40 acres of land are available in Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Nathan Jacobs, a Board member, said she disliked the idea of sacrificing educational facilities here in order to meet requirements of the state law.

"If we are forced to accept this," she said, "we should make plans to raise additional funds."

Board member Hugh Colvin questioned the method by which Pasadena arrived at its figure, and Newell Barrett suggested the meeting with the Pasadena Board.

THREE ALTERNATIVES are available to Sierra Madre.

1. School taxes could be raised to cover the increased cost, although there would not be time this year to arrange for a vote.

2. We could reduce our educational facilities, an eventuality which is highly probable for one year, at least.

3. We could merge our elementary system with Pasadena. This probably would result in a lower total school tax rate, since Pasadenans pay $1.25 for elementary education compared with $1.52 per $100 of assessed valuation in Sierra Madre.

We currently are part of the Pasadena High School district.

Earl Topping, Ex-Mayor, Dies at 67

Earl D. Topping, a former mayor of Sierra Madre, died March 1 at Sawtelle Veterans Hospital following a brief illness. He was 67 years old.

A native of Los Angeles and a resident of Sierra Madre for many years, Mr. Topping was a member of St. Rita's Church and a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his wife, Blanche H. Topping, Sierra Madre, and a son, Jack Topping, Ringling, Okla.

Funeral services were at 2:30 p.m. Monday in Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with Rev. George W. Lindsay of the Congregational Church officiating. Committal services at Pasadena Mausoleum were private.

Jerome J. Thill Dies at 35 in Veterans Hospital

Jerome John Thill, 59 E. Grandview, died March 2 at Sawtelle Veterans Hospital following a brief illness. He was 35 years old.

A native of Los Angeles and a resident of Sierra Madre for many years, Mr. Thill was a member of St. Rita's Church and a veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thill, Sierra Madre; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Mackie, Miss Dolores Thill, both of Sierra Madre, and Mrs. Mary Bonnell, and Mrs. Lois Cline, both of Pasadena, and a brother, Bennett, of Sierra Madre.

Recitation of the Rosary was held Tuesday at St. Rita's Church, with the Requiem Mass at 8 a.m. Wednesday. Interment was in Resurrection Cemetery with the Ripple Mortuary Chapel in charge of arrangements.

VALUES GALORE, the sign says, on Dollar Days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 6, 7 and 8. All participating stores are offering unusual buys and will be open until 9 p.m. Friday. Plenty of parking is available in the three city lots. Holding the sign are Ralph Hurwit, chairman of the event, and Larry Garland, a member of the committee.

Council to Appoint City Attorney Tuesday

The City Council here will select a new city attorney as its first order of business at the meeting in City Hall next Tuesday night.

Council members have convened in several personnel meetings to discuss candidates, the latest one being held March 4. More than 20 applicants have requested the job, left vacant by the death of T. Guy Cornyn, and the Council has interviewed eight attorneys.

Approximately half of the applicants either are attorneys for other cities or have had experience in that field. Other items on next Tuesday's agenda include:

1. Further discussion of drainage from the Passionist Fathers Retreat property.

2. A resolution regarding the Feather River project.

3. A resolution which will place the baseball diamond in the City Park, under jurisdiction of the Recreation Commission.

Other items, of course, will also be placed on the agenda before the meeting.

A RECORD 27 young contestants turned out at the Wistaria Vine Gardens last Sunday in hopes of becoming one of the five princesses and the Wistaria queen. The girls are Mary Brown, Beverly Fairbairn, Bettye Foster, Suzanne Edgeman, Rhondda Edgeman, Susan Glass, Heather Irvine, Wendy Watson, Opal Richman, Linda Nehls, Meredith

Mitchell, Bonnie Buckle, Julie Hood, Maggie Dooley, Sue Portland, Susie Harris, Karen Schmidt, Karen Klocke, Judy Vogel, Janet Dickson, Genie Haggraves, Polly La Lone, Nancy Farrell, Christine Dinwiddie, Helen Hippenstiel, Mary McWade and Mary Lee Peterson.

'Right-to-Work' Dangers

An initiative measure on the so-called "right-to-work" law seems fairly certain of being included on the ballot in the next election. Petitions, in fact, already have been circulated in Sierra Madre.

There can be no argument against permitting residents of California to express their preference, providing they know what they are voting for.

And that is the rub. It's difficult to argue against the right-to-work bill because on the surface, it appears to be an example of democracy in action. The group circulating the petitions, for example, calls itself the Citizens Committee for Democracy in Labor Unions.

And who can argue against democracy?

RIGHT-TO-WORK laws, which have been enacted in several states, (primarily below the Mason-Dixon line) prohibit unions and employers from entering into agreements making union membership a condition of employment.

Under union shop agreements, which are legal so far as the Federal Government is concerned, a worker must join the union within a specified period AFTER he has been hired, usually 30 days.

This is a condition of employment, the same as promptness in reporting for work is a condition of employment.

The closed shop, although it is widely practiced, is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act. Under the closed shop, a worker must belong to a union BEFORE he is hired.

Few people seem to appreciate the difference between the union and the closed shop, but it is nevertheless a vast one.

THERE ARE dangers in the right-to-work law which must seem obvious to anybody who believes that labor unions are here to stay and who feels unions have and should continue to play a vital part in our society.

These same dangers, I'm sure, are apparent to right-to-work proponents, probably more so.

They must realize that right-to-work laws could destroy many unions, particularly the big industrial ones.

What's to prevent an employer, for example, from scouring the countryside in search of anti-union workers? What's to prevent him from hiring them? These tactics are not unique in the United States.

And what about new industries? Say General Motors builds a new plant in Southern California. What's to prevent management from ignoring the United Auto Workers and hiring anti-union labor or destitute immigrants who will work under almost any conditions so long as they have a job. This, too, has happened in the United States.

RIGHT-TO-WORK spokesmen must know, also, that their precious legislation would have no import on the many labor union which now practice the close shop.

These include most unions in the building trades, the Teamsters and several others. Many of the same unions, in fact, whose leadership has been charged with and, in some instances, convicted of corrupt practices.

Hiring halls exist in all major cities because they are convenient. A building contractor, for example, may want 50 bricklayers. He calls union headquarters and he gets his 50 men, all in good standing with the union.

Others, whose dues have fallen behind or who oppose the union leadership or have otherwise made themselves unpopular, are left standing in the cold. It's situations like this that breed corruption. Right-to-work laws have absolutely no effect on them.

THESE laws quite obviously are aimed at the big industrial unions -- the United Auto Workers, Steelworkers, International Association of Machinists, International Union of Electrical Workers and others.

They were enacted in the South to prevent the union organization of industry and they've been pretty successful.

Proponents of right-to-work laws, in most cases, are opposed to the basic principles of unionism. They don't agree with union philosophy; they call labor leaders "czars," they dub Walter Reuther "Public Enemy No. 1."

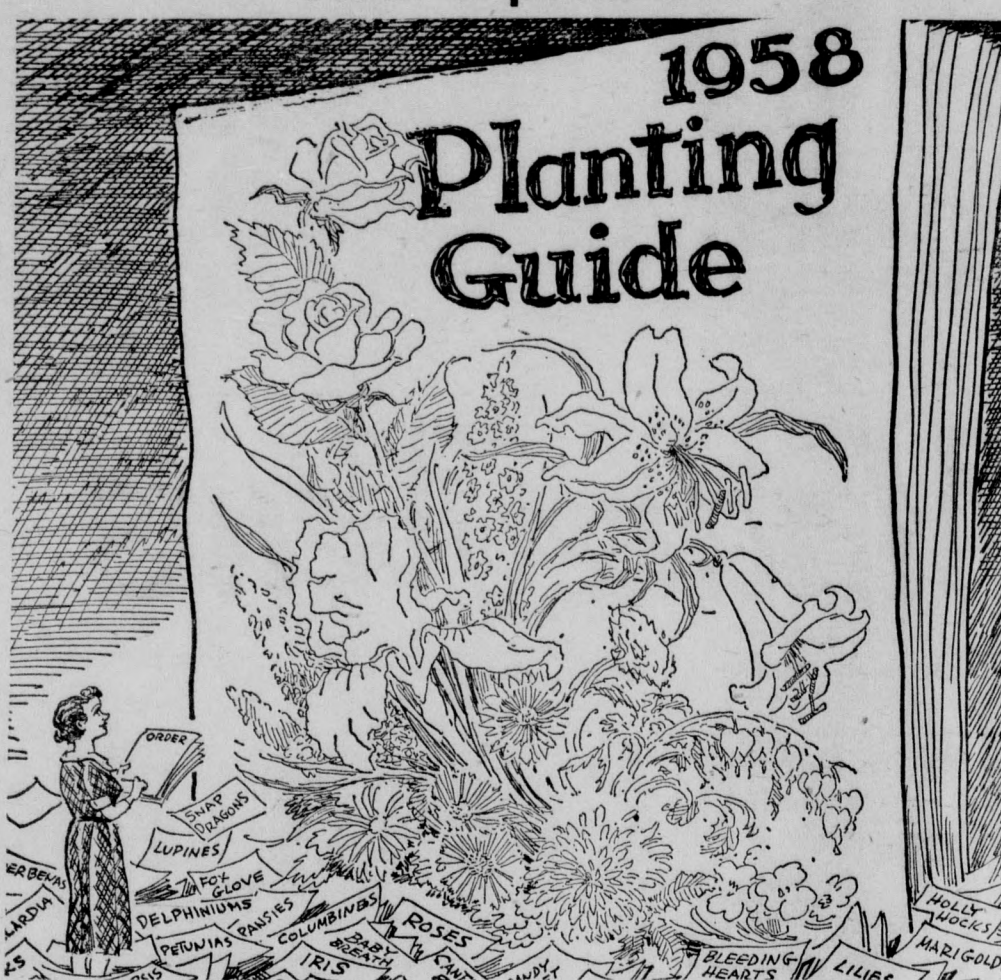

They would like to see any union to the political left of the Watchmaker's destroyed.

RIGHT-TO-WORK legislation has been condemned by many spokesmen from both the Catholic and Protestant Church, and by dozens of others acquainted with the facts.

If right-to-work advocates argued against the philosophy of unionism, their opinions could be respected. But to hide behind a cloak of "democracy in labor unions" is playing the old political game of expediency.

A right-to-work law in California or, as it probably will be called on the ballot, an "Employer-Employee Relations Act," deserves little support. H.W.E.

Great Expectations

Around the Square

A knockout in the second round netted 20-year-old Pat Lovejoy a Golden Glove in the championship finals Friday night at PCC. In order to fight in the 145 lb. division (he didn't decide to enter the three-day elimination bouts until the last minute), Pat melted off 10 pounds in less than two days—by "working out" at the YMCA and starving.

Pat, a chemistry major, son of George and Helen Lovejoy, joins a long list of Sierra Madre boxers to win a Golden Glove.

HARDIER SOULS (both kids and grownups) took a blustery March lion by the tail on the weekend and sent kites aloft, as they pitted themselves against the buffeting winds and dodged falling palm fronds.

BUSY MOTHER down on Manzanita was fiercely pulling out a rash of weeds in the parkway. Several yards behind momma was her little tot—equally busy replanting the scraggly garden blights.

BLASTS WINDOWS. Bichette Pannettier has just finished sandblasting a dozen windows to be used in the decor of a Chinese restaurant in L.A. Bichette, who designed the windows for Craft-Art (owned by her neighbors, the Francis Clearys), has several ceramic kilns and creates fine pottery in her home studio.

IN FILLING out Congressman Hiestand's pulse-feeling questionnaire, one peevish 21st District voter listed his occupation as "citizen."

UNDERWORLD DEN? The cracked wall mirror and bullet-hole-broken window lend a spooky aura to the park comfort station, which is illuminated only by a feeble 15 watt lightbulb.

COMMUNIQUE from Henry Whalen—who wonders if unsolicited mail senders deliberately got his first name wrong in order to avoid "invasion of privacy" suits. Latest batch of junk posted to invade Hank's mailbox included the first names: Hawthorne, Holloway and Hanover—(where "hurricanes" rarely ever happen).

BROTHERHOOD OF PAIN. Back plaster instructions are written in English, Swedish, Polish, Hungarian, Spanish, Czech-Bohemian, Norwegian, Italian, French, Greek, German, Yiddish, Russian and Chinese.

Proof that an ache's the same in any spine.

WHO SAYS the painter's house is the last to get the brush? Not so at writer-painter Bob Wortham's—where the entire family has dipped in the pot to help paint the exterior in earthy tones of putty pink and charcoal.

RAT TALE. The recent mention of rats gleaned this tidbit from one parent: Seems her eight-year-old daughter had a boyfriend who frequently visited of an afternoon—always bringing a white rat. The mother, not sympathetically inclined toward rodents, suffered these visits, knowing that the young swain's parents had to put up with "Ratty" full time, and after all, couldn't she endure the rat a few times a week?

Then one day she got an enlightening phone call from the boy: "What should I do? Your daughter's rat needs a rabies shot and I just can't afford it."

It developed that the young conspirator was just boarding "Ratty" as a favor to his girlfriend—who had the ill-fortune to dwell in a house of non-rat lovers.

A WOMAN Volkswagen owner pulled over to assist a fellow V.W. driver who was stalled. Then informed there was something wrong with the motor, the woman cheerfully called out: "Don't worry, you can borrow the extra motor I have in my trunk!"

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

43 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Mar. 5, 1915—Mrs. J. G. Britt of Los Angeles was a guest of Mrs. A. N. Adams.

Mrs. Rebecca Berger and her mother left for San Francisco and will spend some time visiting the fair.

Capt. Copps and wife of Wisconsin arrived for a visit of several months with his brother, Marcus W. Copps.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Mar. 4, 1938 — Wednesday's cloudburst that dumped 27 inches of rain in 24 hours at Wilson Creek completely wiped out 100 cabins in Santa Anita Canyon according to Major John P. Kaye, of the Forest Service.

Mrs. Edna R. Croan will present Rudy Annas, in recital Friday evening at her home, 263 W. Highland. Kathleen Norris will assist with harp numbers.

Miss Dorothy Moote of 689 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. spent Washington's birthday at Icehouse Canyon with a group of UCLA graduates.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Mar. 4, 1948—Four candidates for the three councilmanic posts to be filled at the city election in April opened their campaigns Tuesday night at a City Hall meeting. Candidates were Don Jackson, incumbent, filing for a two-year term; Comdr. Herman Barter, Mark Dailey and John Osgood, filing for four year terms.

George Tyree, 140 S. Hermosa, was heard with other students of Blanche W. Marfield in recital Sunday evening.

Zoe Barter became 9 years old on Saturday and observed the event by inviting 15 classmates for a barbecue lunch topped off with ice cream and cake.

5 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 5, 1953—News comes from Korea of the arrival of Lt. Charles R. Gildart, Jr., son of Col. and Mrs. Charles R. Gildart, 531 Elm. He has been assigned to artillery in the Second Infantry Division.

Leon Ware, ex-Sierra Madrean who calls himself an "Oakie" because he lives just across the Arcadia line at 70 W. Orange Grove, is no hillbilly in the fiction field. This time he and his brother Harlan have a novelette, "Letter to a Wife," in "Good Housekeeping."

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

I can't help admiring Secretary Benson and admiring the President for sticking by him. On the face of things, our whole agricultural program is cockeyed. Every year the government spends hundreds of millions to buy and store crop surpluses for which it has no use. It is so embarrassed by the vast quantities spoiling in storage that it eagerly turns over much of it to CARE, so that CARE can deliver 22 pounds of good American food in Europe or Asia for $1, or probably less than half what any hungry American could buy that same food for.

Isn't that the basic reason why the cost of living steadily rises, despite depression? Yet everything the farmer has to buy has gone up so much more that he still is having a hard time to get along. Thus our agricultural program is stealing from all of us without aiding the farmer—especially the small farmer—half enough, and isn't helping anyone except the politicians who harvest the votes.

BUT THOUGH I think the farm program is basically wrong, and that Benson is a sincere and courageous man, I do not like his intimation that the small farm must go. I do not like to see anything small gobbled up by something bigger than anything ought to be.

We have less and less real competition in this country because more and more a few huge organizations control the entire car market or accessories market or dry goods market, and so on.

The American Motors president told Congress and audiences in San Diego and Los Angeles that both huge corporations and huge unions should be broken up. It is so much easier to secure price-fixing co-operation between a few huge concerns than between many small ones that competition ceases. On the other hand, while unions have been a great boost to American economy, the fact that Dave Beck had dreams of combining all the land and sea should show anyone that despotic power is possible unless we make it legally impossible.

Certain it is that huge corporations can effect improvements which make manufacturing production much cheaper—yet the public has to pay higher and higher. The great danger of bigness, in corporations or in labor, is that it puts almost unlimited power in a few hands, and unlimited power always has led to tyranny. A man who sells cars costing more than $5,000 told me that the first thing he does with a customer is confidentially to knock off $1,000, usually by adding it to trade-in value. That is frank admission that the cars are priced $1,000 too high, yet the automobile industry puts all the blame on labor, though apparently the cars can profitably be sold far below their price tags.

I don't like to see any small independent business man absorbed by a big corporation and turned into a clerk for the corporation and I hate to think how the cost of living will rise if a comparative few great corporations control all our sources of food supply.

So, though I admire Mr. Benson, I can't go along with him in believing that the small farm should go. And though I think this is a far better country than it was before the Wagner Labor Relations Act was adopted, I believe that all-powerful unions are just as dangerous as all-powerful corporations. To repeat, unlimited power always leads to tyranny.

Porpoises, though air-breathing mammals, outswim most fish. They can remain under water no longer than three minutes, and usually surface for breath every 30 to 45 seconds. Porpoises sometimes kill sharks by butting their foes' tender gill slits with their tough snouts.

What Made Sen. Harry Byrd Run

By Robert G. Spivack

THE CURIOUS BEHAVIOR OF SEN. BYRD—On Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, the senior senator from Virginia, Harry Flood Byrd, announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election this year.

In some quarters there was great rejoicing. Others of his critics said that Byrd was an "honest conservative" who felt that time and events had passed him by and that he was quitting, tired and disillusioned. Still others, on the far right, felt genuine sorrow at his decision to step down. Byrd, a nominal Democrat, was one of the last living remnants of the Hoover school of economics.

But 13 days after his announcement, Byrd reversed himself and announced that he would seek re-election. The reason he gave for his reversal was that Mrs. Byrd had "released" him from a pledge that this was to be his last term. Also he was "impressed" by the "overwhelming appeal" from Virginians in all walks of life that he reconsider his decision.

TO THOSE correspondents who have covered Byrd for many years the sudden shift of position was not in character for the Virginia Senator. Whatever one might think of his political and economic views, no one has ever regarded Byrd as coy or the sort of man who liked to be coaxed. So there has been a great scurrying around on the part of some writers to find out what the Byrd decision was really all about.

Expects Big Return From Questionnaire

By Edgar W. Hiestand, Rep. 21st District

AROUND WASHINGTON—This city won't soon forget the great snow of '58. Everything travels on the surface in Washington, but when the surface is buried under 14 to 20 inches of white stuff, and snowdrifts reach 6 feet, there's just no travel.

Federal employees were ordered to take two days off (these didn't include congressmen or their staffs). Autos were stalled and public transportation broke down completely. One of the city's smartest businessmen was the fellow who rigged up two horses and a sled and pulled "essential" workers to their jobs.

Not even the Russians could have done a more effective job of paralyzing the nation's capital.

ALL OF OUR annual Questionnaires have been delivered from Washington to district chairmen in California. You should get yours this week or next. We anticipate an extremely heavy return this year because there are so many important issues facing Congress and the country, and because the Questionnaires do not require an envelope for you to return it to Washington.

I hope you and your family will take time to answer and give your congressman your opinions.

THIS MUCH IS CLEAR: The nation's economy now is being made the number one issue by demagogues, professional gloom sounders and all who want to "view with alarm". Or, look at another way, our missile and satellite programs must be in good shape because most politicians have stopped criticizing them.

MOST OF THE recommendations of the bipartisan Hoover Commission are in effect. This is the essence of a report just issued by Meyer Kestbaum, special assistant to the President, who says that as of Jan. 1, 1958 some 383 of the 497 recommendations (or 77 per cent) have been accepted "in whole, in part, or as to basic objective."

Kestbaum adds that 291 recommendations (59 per cent of all those made by the Commission) already have been, or are being, implemented.

There are 50 additional recommendations which are favored by the Administration but which cannot be implemented without legislative action. This is where the Hoover proposals are bogged down, because people presently in control of Congress seem reluctant to bring up the bills. I have 10 bills still before various committees on Hoover measures.

"It is not possible to estimate accurately the savings which already have been achieved and which are still in prospect as a result of the work of the Hoover Commission," Kestbaum reports.

We might add that neither is it possible to tell how much Congress is wasting each year by its failure to act on important Hoover measures.

FOR THE RECORD—The United States government owns 772 million acres of land throughout the world, including property in 105 foreign countries. Federal real estate holdings total $42.9 billion in terms of original acquisition cost. . . . "From a peak of 59.6 millions of persons employed in civilian activities last September (1950) the number has gone down to 56 millions, with 4.8 millions unemployed. A certain amount of unemployment, say from 3 to 5 million, is supportable. It is a good thing that job seeking should go on at all times; this is healthy for the economic body."—President Truman's view on unemployment as reported by Arthur Krock in New York Times, Feb. 15, 1950.

Congress last week got a demonstration in practical politics when those in control of the House closed ranks to pass a bill which allots $2.5 million to Crow Indians in Montana for 6000 acres of reservation land.

The land consists almost entirely of bare precipitous, inaccessible canyon walls. It had been appraised at $50,000, or about $8.33 an acre, but the bill proposed to pay about $416.67 an acre. Passage it is assumed, would help to keep in Congress a member who represents the marginal district in which this project is to be located. I voted against the measure and hope the President will veto it, as he did once before. . . .

Around and About . . .

Oh, to Be Young Again! 40 Years or So

By Edward Lloyd Voorhees

$25 month is required for a small apartment.

His remarks and answers to my questions left the impression that Italian school children are favored with less playtime than ours, and more discipline, both mental and physical. They eat well, but less frequently, and are less restless with their fewer calories.

Next morning, in Naples, which had been a dreary and chill in mid-February, the mid-March sun was now accentuating a touch of spring in the air. The early afternoon little steamer for Capri was wind-swept, making the small cabin saloon an occasional cozy refuge, with its enticing odors of black coffee and brandy—the traditional guard against the certain queasiness.

THE CABIN proved not without a personal interest also; a most attractive American girl, travelling with her father to Capri for a first visit, responded charmingly to my casual but discreet challenge to her interest in what could and should be seen on that ancient Island of history and romance.

She proved both eager and intelligent in her questions and comments; she had a rare charm, and had I been, say, 40 years younger—but I wasn't. . . any more!

ACROSS the Desk

From the Ravenswood News, Ravenswood, W. Va.: A natural-born nail-biter we know offered the following editorial as a public service. If it doesn't move you to immediate response, take a moment to worry about the guy who wrote the thing in the first place.

People don't worry enough. It all started when psychologists discovered worry. They said it made people overdraw their bank accounts and dial wrong numbers. All sorts of books were written showing people how to stop worrying. It's getting so you can't find a book that shows how to start worrying.

This is wrong. Worrying made this country great. Our forefathers worried all the time. Worrying builds men. Worrying is fun. Worrying is the most subtle and complex mental exercise known to man. An experienced worrier can find things to worry about that nobody ever heard of.

In the interests of restoring worry to its proper place in American life, we suggest the following sample worries as practice. When you have mastered these you will be ready for Advanced Worry.

Household Worries

That the baby will fall in the fish pond.

That you left a pink sock in the white wash.

That the neighbors are stealing the fruit.

Office Worries

That your assistant is after your job.

That the bookkeeper will discover a discrepancy in your expense account.

That somebody has already asked for the first two weeks in June for vacation.

In Bed At Night Worries (an excellent place for masterful worrying)

That the washbasin is overflowing.

That someone is jimmying the back door.

That the alarm clock bell key is in the "off" position.

That the mattress has shifted to a 45 degree angle.

Miscellaneous Worries for Various Occasions

That the elevator cable will break.

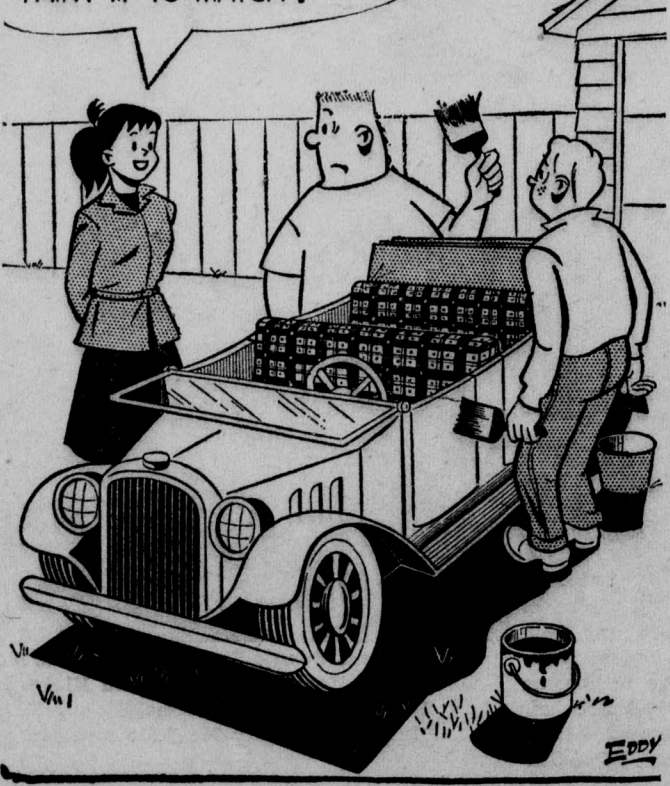

That somebody in the opposite bus seat is trying to hypnotize you.

That you are about to involuntarily kick your hostess in the shins.

That you are going to shout an obscene word in a crowded theatre.

HALF-PAST TEEN

SINCE YOU HAVE NEW SEAT COVERS, WHY DON'T YOU PAINT IT TO MATCH?

Market Basket Plans to Build 42nd Store

Coincident with the celebration of their 28th anniversary, President Neal D. Ramsey of Market Basket today announced plans for the construction of the 42nd store in the chain.

The newest Market Basket supermarket will be in a new four-acre shopping center at the northeast corner of Rosemead Blvd. at Longden, bordering Temple City. The market will occupy 30,000 square feet, with an additional 13,200 square feet devoted to service shops. Parking will be provided for approximately 275 automobiles. Start of construction is scheduled within 90 days.

"This heralds another advancement in our steady growth," said Ramsey, commenting on his 28 years with the company. "Of the 41 Market Basket stores in the Los Angeles area, 20 are five years old or less. Changes are synonymous with growth."

"For this reason, we maintain many of our own service facilities to keep pace with the constantly changing merchandising picture. Continued confidence in the economy of this nation, and further growth of Southern California, is best expressed by future plans now on our drawing boards at Market Basket."

Villagers of Madecongo, in French Equatorial Africa, catch fish by driving them like big game. Men hold large nets while women upstream splash and beat the water with bell-shaped baskets to herd fish into the trap.

Big Prizes Are Available In Mrs. America Contest

Competence in performing every-day homemaking tasks can win thousands of dollars in prizes for a Mrs. America contestant in the San Gabriel-Pomona valleys region, according to R. E. Harbicht, local manager, Southern Counties Gas Co.

Major Mrs. America prizes include a houseful of fabulous automatic gas appliances, a swimming pool, an all-expense-paid trip to Hawaii for Mrs. America and her husband, a sterling silver service for 12, an automatic sewing machine and scores of other valuable prizes for the winner and runners-up.

California contest officials in the San Gabriel-Pomona valleys region, covering the Ontario-Upland area and the San Gabriel and Pomona valleys, will be vying for a chance in the Mrs. California state finals, an automatic gas clothes dryer and a three-day, all-expense-paid stay at the Los Angeles Ambassador for themselves and husbands.

"Mrs. San Gabriel-Pomona Valleys" will be named on or before March 29. "Mrs. California" will be crowned during the state finals at the Ambassador, April 7-8. Forty-eight state winners and one from Washington, D.C. will participate in the 1958 national Mrs. America finals slated from May 1-13 at Fort Lauderdale.

ANY MARRIED woman, 21 years or over, who is a citizen and permanent resident of the U.S. may enter the contest, except employees or relatives of employees of organizations sponsoring the contest.

The Mrs. America contest is sponsored nationally by the American Gas Association, and in this area by Southern Counties Gas Co.

The Kulinary Kettle . . .

Spices and Herbs Add Zest to Any Meal

By Toni Maurin

SY 7-9634

There comes a time in the life of almost anyone who cooks a great deal an impulse. The food you have enjoyed year in and year out has suddenly become dull and uninviting. If this has happened to you, perhaps it is the time for you to experiment with the art of spice and herb cookery. This in itself can unfold a whole new and exciting world of fine eating with the simplest of menus.

One of the most important factors in cooking with herbs is that you use them sparingly and carefully. It is also very important that you use only the fresh herbs and spices, as they lose their flavor when they have been stored too long. I prefer the Spice Island brand myself because of the many unusual spice combinations and the freshness of the product.

If you are using fresh herbs you can use more than the dried and if using powdered herbs proceed cautiously, as seasoning is meant to enhance the flavor of food, not overpower it.

I ENJOY experimenting around with salad dressings. I make a basic French dressing consisting of:

- 1 cup olive oil or veg. oil
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 cup red wine vinegar
- generous dash white pepper
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 clove garlic halved

I make this recipe in the morning, shake it well and allow it to stand at room temperature for several hours before removing garlic. From this recipe I can get a wide range of flavors by adding, for example, two teaspoons chopped capers just before serving, which is a delicious compliment to any white fish meal.

With a roast chicken I add a little dill weed and chopped green or dried green onion to my basic recipe to add a bit of zest to my meal.

A half teaspoon of chili powder or curry salt instead of the dry mustard will make any egg or cheese meal sing.

Savory in a string bean salad, marjoram in chicken chef's salad and bit or oregano to compliment a spaghetti dinner are just a few of the variations that can be used with one simple recipe.

Muriel Peterson Has Surprise Birthday Party

Muriel Peterson was honored last Friday evening when a group of her friends banded together for a surprise progressive dinner in celebration of her eighteenth birthday anniversary.

The theme of the party was "This is Your Life" and at each home visited, there were pictures and items, supplied by Muriel's mother, to remind her of various times in her life.

The guests assembled at the home of Terry Battelle. They then arrived at the Peterson home for tomato juice. Other stops included soup at Susan Maloney's, salad at Joyce Hefflin, spaghetti at Kathy Franco, Claret at Joyce Keups and birthday cake and dancing at Pat Stetson.

Karen Morris, as well as the other girls' escorts, was also in attendance at the festive event.

PTA Spring Fashion Show Nets $338

Last Saturday, 250 guests at the Sierra Madre PTA's dessert-fashion show helped to raise $338 in net profits from a special PTA fund-raising project, planned to purchase supplementary curriculum enrichment materials for the two Sierra Madre public schools.

The hour-long display of spring fashions, ranging from the classic shirtmaker dress through play-clothes to the newest chemise, delighted the adult guests and several teenage daughters.

"We are thrilled by the success of the fashion show," Mrs. Bert Menne and Mrs. George Fleming said when it was over. "And we want to thank the many people who helped make it so successful—the many guests who supported it by their attendance and all the members of the committee who worked long and hard to put it on. It was well worth all the time and effort."

Committee members working with Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Menne were:

Mrs. John Crehan, Clifford Sweet, Charles Fretz, William Waite, Henry Darrow, James Dunnagan, Henry Rose, Edward Higgins, Wayne Hartwell, William Treder, George Lindsay, George Tyree, and Claude Brown.

Woman's Club Celebrates Anniversary

Members of Sierra Madre Woman's Club will celebrate the club's 51st year at a birthday anniversary luncheon next Wednesday at 12 noon in the clubhouse.

Honored guests will be past presidents and the five of the 54 original charter members who are still alive, Mrs. Mary D. Caley, Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mrs. Edith Pictor Nelson, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger and Mrs. Tascor Weigler.

Mrs. Maybelle Barker, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Dewey McGeary, luncheon; Mrs. Howard E. Baker, decorations; Mrs. Peter Pederson, hospitality; Mrs. Franklin A. Franco, reservations; Mrs. Charles H. Tye, program; and Mrs. W. S. Hull, honorary hostess.

Mrs. Tye, a member of the drama section, will present the program with the assistance of Mrs. Clinton Symonds, Mrs. Norman Hellmann, Mrs. Henry N. Wade, Jr., and Miss Clara Sykes, president.

The program will be highlighted by "Pat's Talent Scouts," supplemented by an "All Girl Chorus" which will present singing commercials throughout the afternoon's festivities. Three "artists" will appear on the talent show being broadcast over "Station S-M-W-C."

All members are encouraged to attend this annual party. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Franco at ELgin 5-9766, no later than next Monday.

Mrs. Stafford Wins Annual Club Contest

"Tattle-Tale Gray" was the intriguing title of the winning speech presented by Mrs. Par Stafford at the Foothill Toastmistress Club's annual speech contest.

Questioning the "gray" area between the black and white of dishonesty and integrity, Mrs. Stafford pointed out that many who are normally scrupulously honest tend to relax their standards in small matters.

She will represent the Foothill club at the area contest to be held March 14 at the Covina Bowl.

Competing with Mrs. Stafford were Mrs. Mary Ray with "Someone In The Sky" and Mrs. Hal Halverson with "Imprisoned But Free."

As Toastmistress of the evening, Mrs. John Bunkers introduced the speakers. Mrs. Stanley Fish of Sierra Madre presented table topics, and Mrs. John Kinsley, vice-president, presided at this special meeting.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Anne Cotter of Sierra Madre, Mrs. Katherine Williams and Dr. Franklin Page Jr. of the Sierra Madre Toastmistress Club.

Women residing in the Foothill area who are interested in attending future meetings of the Foothill Toastmistress Club should contact the club president, Mrs. Mary Ray at EL 8-3857, or the hostess, Mrs. John Bunkers at ED 7-8070.

Gas Co. Pays Large Area Tax

Franchise payments for 1957 amounting to $446,248 have been made by Southern Counties Gas Co. to Los Angeles County and 38 of its communities, R. E. Harbicht, local manager, reported.

In addition to the county, which received $136,152, franchise payments were made for use of streets and highways to various communities. Sierra Madre received $4,022.

Franchise payments to the county and communities were up more than 7 per cent over similar amounts paid in 1956, Harbicht said.

When combined with real and property taxes—first installment of which the utility paid in December—Southern Counties pays more than $5,000,000 a year to communities it serves and in which it has property located. Of this total, more than $2,900,000 goes to Los Angeles County and its communities.

This combined total of franchise payments and real and property taxes, Harbicht said, means the gas company pays—for each of the 638,797 customers it served at year-end 1957—an average of $7.95. This amount is substantially higher than one month's "average" gas bill which, in 1957, was $6.06 for the company's typical residential customer.

Mission Aid Meets March 13

The Ladies' Mission Aid of Faith Lutheran Church meets next Thursday, March 13, at 10 a.m. in the church meeting room at 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

Mrs. Jane Curry of Monrovia will preside as president. Speaker for the day will be the Rev. Paul D. Lehman, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Los Angeles.

MISSION BELL

ONCE THERE was a sailor ordered to look-out duty in the crow's nest. His task was to be the ship's eyes, warning of storms and pirates, reporting anything amiss. He scanned the horizon all day. He sighted nothing.

IN THE EVENING the captain called the sailor to his cabin and said: "Today while you were on look-out a man disappeared from the crew. He must have fallen overboard. Why didn't you see him?"

THE SAILOR replied: "Why, sir, I thought my job was to scan the horizon. I wasn't watching nearby. I wasn't watching nearby. I wasn't watching nearby."

THE CHURCH is like a ship. Christians are the crew. But in church the Captain has ordered the WHOLE crew to be on the look-out ALL the time. Too many Christians are like the sailor. They think it enough to be alert for distant pirates—"the devil, world and flesh"—things that endanger their OWN salvation.

A TRUE CHRISTIAN needs to be on constant look-out for people NEAR HIM who may be drowning spiritually. So many people are floundering in waters of sin without Jesus! They are helpless unless Christ rescues them.

NO EVANGELISM can help such people unless their names and addresses are discovered for the prospect list. We must also constantly keep inviting and bringing them to church.

TODAY'S THOUGHT—"Look-out duty" is evangelism every church member can do. Here there is no excuse the Captain will accept!

The Rev. Ray E. Hansen, United Lutheran Church, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., S.S. 9 a.m., Church at 10. Sermon: Striking Out Satan 8 p.m., Wed., Mar. 12: Simon: Christ's Cross Bearer

Rev. Schaper To Speak at State College

Dr. Robert Schaper of Bethany Church left Sunday afternoon for Tempe, Ariz., to be one of the featured speakers at the Arizona State College "Spiritual Exploration Week."

Dr. Schaper will be one of a team of ministers, including a Jewish rabbi, a Roman Catholic priest, and another Protestant clergyman. He will return to Sierra Madre Friday night.

During the week Bethany's pastor will speak to sorority and fraternity members and conduct personal interviews with many of the students.

THE ANNUAL Snow Conference for the Bethany junior and senior high school groups will start tomorrow evening at Pinecrest Lodge near Lake Gregory. An expected crowd of over 100 is expected to make this year's conference one of the best.

Featured speakers for the conference will be Ken Snelling, former professional football player; Don Bushfield, student at California Baptist College in Covina, and Dr. Schaper.

THE MARINERS CLUB of Bethany Church will meet for a "March Blow-Out" this Thursday at Fellowship Hall, 6:45 p.m.

Fourth Lenten Service at Faith Lutheran Planned

The fourth in a series of six midweek Lenten services will be conducted on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Faith Lutheran Chapel, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

Speaking on "What the Lord Does for People," Rev. A. Hesse will point out what He is able to do for non-Christian politicians like Pontius Pilate.

An added feature this year has met with favorable comment. In each service the audience is given a brief introduction to the person and life of the composer of one of the well-known Lenten hymns. The particular Lenten hymn is then sung by the audience.

The public is invited to these midweek devotionals.

SUNDAY SERVICE
"The Science of Faith" will be the subject of the Sunday morning worship services, March 9 at 9:15 and 11 a.m. by Dr. Ethel Barnhart, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

EASTER SEAL EXPRESS—"Engineer" Danny Pergrin, 5, gives a ride to his playmate, Sammy Kuntz, 6, at a Los Angeles County Easter Seal recreation center. The recreation program is only one of the many rehabilitation services provided for crippled children and adults by the 47 Easter Seal Societies in California. The services are all made possible by public support of the Easter Seal campaign.

United Lutherans Plan Opening of Charter Roll

The charter member roll will be opened on Easter Sunday by the United Lutheran Church, giving worshipers their first opportunity to become charter members of the mission which began services last Oct. 27.

"We already topped 100 baptized members," said the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor. "Our goal for Easter is to have 100 adult members."

THE CHARTER will be signed as part of the Easter service, with the members coming forward to a special table that will be set up. The charter will be a beautiful work of art and become an historic document of the church.

Pastor Hansen said that the charter would remain open until the time when the church is formally organized later this year.

It will be presented to the Pacific Southwest synod when the church is admitted to the fellowship of the other 115 churches comprising the synod from California, Hawaii, Arizona and Nevada. Then the charter will be framed and displayed in the narthex of the church.

"ANYONE DESIRING to be a charter member may come forth now," Pastor Hansen said. "We are instructing new members in our class which meets at 7 p.m. Wednesdays in the Upper Room, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., preceding our Lenten Vesper services. It is a rare and often once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to become a charter member of a church."

Next Sunday the pastor will continue his "baseball" series of sermons, preaching on "Striking Out Satan." On Wednesday, March 12, the 8 p.m. meditation will be on "Simon, Christ's Cross Bearer."

Amadeus Quartet To Perform at Playhouse Sunday

The internationally renowned Amadeus Quartet from England, one of America's favorite ensembles ever since its 1953 debut here, will be heard in the Pasadena Playhouse on the Coleman Concert Series, Sunday afternoon, March 9, at 3:30 p.m.

Although the Amadeus' home base is London, only one member of the group is a native Briton—the cellist, Martin Lovett. His colleagues—Norbert Brainin and Siegmund Nissel, violinists, and Peter Schidlof, violist, are all of Austria.

This is their third tour of the United States, and the third time they have appeared on the Coleman Chamber Concerts.

Their program will consist of the Mozart Quart in F, K. 590; the Brahms Quartet in A Minor, Opus 51, No. 2; and the Bartok Sixth Quartet. Tickets are on sale at the Pasadena Playhouse box office, SYcamore 6-5358 or RYan 1-6418.

Arcadia High Pupil Wins Club Speaking Contest

Students from Arcadia, La Salle and Pasadena High Schools were winners of the annual Student Speakers Contest last week at a meeting of the Sierra Madre Lions Club. First place went to Bob Winn of Arcadia High, while other trophies were awarded to Joseph Capps, Arcadia High; Jim Smith, La Salle, and Dick Helgeson, PHS. Winn will next speak in the Lions zone contest and, if successful, he may eventually compete in the finals for a $1,500 scholarship prize.

Scouts

(Continued from Page 1) Services-to-Troops Committee as immediate coordinator; James Abernethy, former public relations vice president, is on the Pasadena Finance Committee, and Mrs. Hugh Warriner, former treasurer, is troop organizer. Mrs. James Winslow, former leaders' representative, is the new neighborhood chairman, and will be directly responsible for the Girl Scout program in Sierra Madre.

Prior to dissolving, the outgoing Council approved the dispersal of past cookie sale proceeds, held in trust for troop camping activities, based upon budgets submitted by the individual troops for Scout camping activities for the remainder of the Scouting year. Receipts from the 1958 cookie sale will be turned over to the Pasadena Council as Sierra Madre's share in the cost of maintenance of the established camps which Sierra Madre Girl Scouts may now attend on an equal footing with Pasadena Scouts.

Cabral

(Continued from page 1) YOUTH WILL dominate the Sierra Madre gallery in April and again in June. The Cabral show will be followed by Young Artists of 1958, a selection of work by students of Southern California colleges and art schools. In June, the gallery will show selected art work from Grades 1 through 6 of the Sierra Madre Elementary Schools. James Cooper Wright, Pasadena watercolorist, will have a one-man show during May.

PROTECTION

The length of chain hanging from the rear of a fuel truck is a simple precautionary measure against the accumulation of static electricity. Without the protective chain the truck could be turned into a blazing inferno. Health protection measures should be taken, too. The most important is seeing your physician for a thorough physical examination at least once a year. By doing so, you may avert a serious illness.

It is a sure sign you don't have anything to say if you talk about the weather, unless you are a weatherman, that is. But it has been so exciting these past few weeks that it just sort of stirs me up.

One day it will be calm and balmy like a baby taking a nap. Then along comes big brother with gusty winds showing off all of his strength in short spurts. Then the wailing and crying of the wind and rain like an angry man and woman, after which comes the clean pure air like troubles washed away.

I love the weather this time of year; it is an everlasting challenge. It can't be caught or chained as it flits with this old world.

THIS HAS been a month of influx in our area. Dr. and Mrs. Lincoln Wilson have moved into their home at 1500 Old House Road. They bought the D. G. Crandall home and are going to sell their lot on that street that they have owned for some time.

Dr. Wilson is a practicing M.D. in Pasadena. They have many friends in the area already and were cordially welcomed by all.

MR. AND MRS. David Armbruster have moved here with their 21-month-old daughter, Clair, from Benton Harbor, Mich. They are renting the McAlpine home at 1260 Sierra Madre Villa, and the McAlpines are renting the Armbruster home in Benton Harbor. Mr. Armbruster is district manager for R.C.A. Whirlpool in the air conditioning division. Mrs. A. is very talented in hand decorating early American tin ware and refinishing furniture. She is also an avid garden enthusiast.

THE J. A. GUTIERREZ home at 3265 Fairpoint has been a center of goings and comings this past week. Gloria gave a going away party for her guest, Araceli Bayod. Mr. and Mrs. Gutierrez gave a farewell party for Senor and Senora Jose Madrigal who returned to Leon, Mexico, after their visit here. Last weekend their son, Gabriel, returned home from Santa Clara College with two friends for a few days, and last Sunday Guelia had a birthday party with 15 of her friends from Mayfield. Wheewww!!!

DR. AND MRS. John G. Allin have moved into the home they recently purchased from the Wayne Furstenbergers at 3126 Meyer Lane. They have three daughters, Shirley, 15; Barbara, 13, and Johnna, who is just 5. Dr. Allin is an M.D. in Pasadena. They formerly lived in Altadena.

Speaking of the Allins, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Dietzel of the same street gave a get-acquainted cocktail party for them last Sunday. Among the guests were the Wayne Furstenbergers, the L. T. Greiners, the Larry Dietzels, Harry Pulaskis, Neal Battersons, John Wilfongs, William Nashes, Jack Milnes and the Ward Clarks. They had such an active weekend up there. Most of the people at the cocktail party had been to the Mojave Desert on an all-day picnic the day before with about 11 children. On Sunday morning they had a big bowling match and ended up at the Larry Dietzels for coffee and doughnuts before going to the party. By Monday, needless to say, the neighborhood simmered down like a blown fuse.

WE WERE ALL saddened last week to learn of the death of Joe DeWinter after a lingering illness. He and

Skiing a Fraud and Snare, Says Man in Wheelchair

By CHARLES AYRES

'Tis claimed that some are born to be famous and others are born to be hanged. In view of my tender years, it may be too soon to close the books on the hanging caper, but one thing is for sure. I wasn't born to ski!

Trusting and unsuspecting I agreed to partake of this wholesome and invigorating exercise, wooed by the inspirational comments of Betty McGraw, ski editor. Let the record show that I have a bone to pick with her (which fortunately is not of the splintered variety) for the article she wrote recently which proved to be a gross understatement and a fraud.

Being an old pro at this sort of activity, she neglected a few salient facts that may have been elementary to her, but were a matter of life and death to me.

AS A MATTER of fact, but for the company of two beautiful ladies, my whole day would have been a total bust.

Take her lead paragraph, for example, about enthusiasm over the mountain country. My experience brought me consistently closer to the mountain than anybody, and what I saw was anything but beautiful. The "enthusiasm" she referred to was probably a typographical error. What she really meant was "brutal," and I've got lots of evidence to support that theory.

To reach this garden of mayhem, one must take a chair lift, as was accurately reported. She neglected, however, to report the shocked feeling of being unceremoniously slapped in the rear by these monsters. So violent is this blow to a rather personal part of the anatomy, that your first instinct is to punch someone in the nose in outrage. No doubt, with this very thought in mind, the operators have this contraption so rigged that before you can strike back you're out of range.

THE TRICK to mastery of skiing is twofold, (1) relaxing, and (2) learning to stand in a vertical position. Re-his wife were residing with one of their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Coon, at 1455 Old House Road. His other daughter, Mrs. Jack Randall, lives in Apple Valley, and his son, Edward, lives in Pasadena.

Trinity Guild Members Study Indian Problems

"Indians on the Move," a study of American Indians who are moving from their reservations, will be the program topic for the Women's Guild of Trinity Presbyterian Church at its monthly meeting March 18.

A chapel service is planned for 11:30 a.m. with Mrs. Robert Elwood, Mrs. Edward Strathman and Mrs. Betty Birkhahn in charge. Following the luncheon at noon, the program will be turned over to Mrs. Rebecca Bending, a Nez Perce Indian, member of a Presbyterian mission church in Idaho and a graduate of Cook Christian Training School in Phoenix.

Since the Indian is now leaving the reservation in great numbers, his assimilation into the industrial and social life of the city is one of the main sociological problems of our time, according to Mrs. Bending.

Guild circles will meet on the following schedule: Circle 2—at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. S. L. Tenney, 1441 San Carlos Rd., Arcadia.

Circle 3—at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. T. Adelaide Miller, 285 Sturtevant, Sierra Madre.

Circle 4—at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. Williamson, 3290 Rida.

Circle 5—at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. M. Christine Templar, 1220 Tropical.

Circle 6—at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. Hjorth, 1440 Daveric.

Local Girls Accepted In Auroras

New members were accepted in the Auroras, Pasadena High School's honorary girls' service club, at a surprise ceremony last Friday.

The girls, selected for their outstanding service to the school, are: 11th graders, Charlotte Fedde, Susie Hawkins and Carol Draeger; and 12th graders, Deanne Salislan, Kathy Dinwiddie, Pat Stetson, Margarette Bertleson, Marilyn Hodges, Carolyn Meaders, Carol Mumper, Sharon Reimers and Maryann Kingman.

The new members were called into the auditorium, supposedly to help pass out slips for an assembly and, says Carol Draeger, "The curtain on stage went up and all the old Aurora members were standing there. It was a complete surprise to all of us when they announced that we'd been accepted into the group."

The girls will attend their first Aurora activity, which will be an installation banquet, tonight.

Observance of Purim Ends

The downfall of a bigot and the triumph of a religious freedom is remembered by Jews throughout the world today during the celebration of the one-day holiday of Purim, which started at sunset yesterday and terminates at sunset today.

A special Sabbath and Purim Service will be conducted at Temple Beth David of the San Gabriel Valley on Friday, March 7, at 8 p.m. Rabbi Ephraim F. Elmhorn will deliver a sermon on "Mordecai and Esther—Heroes of Mankind."

Going back about 2,500 years, the origin of the holiday is described in the Bible's Book of Esther. The story tells of the Persian premier, Haman, who demanded that all men prostrate themselves before him and of the refusal of Mordecai to do so on the ground of his loyalty to the Jewish principles of monotheism.

Haman plots to destroy the Jewish people, only to be thwarted by the heroism of Esther, the Jewish girl who

Field Parents Rate Art, Book Fair Big Success

Some 250 parents were on hand at the Eugene Field PTA meeting last week to welcome Youlden C. Howell, head of the school art program, and five outstanding authors and illustrators of children's books.

Parents and teachers judged the "Art and Book Fair" a huge success, and the speakers were besieged by autograph seekers and questioners after the formal meeting.

Leo Politi, Italian-born but famed for his books on Mexican children and interesting points in California, drew great applause for his remarks about his feelings for children and California. His latest book is "The Butterflies Come," concerning Pacific Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Holling C. Holling, who live in the Field school district, and whose latest book is "Pagoo," happily answered questions about their research along the shores of California to learn of the lives of the tiny water creatures they wrote of in the book. Mr. Holling was an entertaining speaker, giving his listeners an insight into just how he and Mrs. Holling collaborate in producing their books.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Buff, famed for their Indian stories, did not speak during the meeting, but were on hand to talk to parents afterwards.

Student art work from all of the Field grades hung around the cafeteria.

Tables of books and phonograph records for various grade levels and on various subjects were on display.

Mr. Howell praised Field teachers for their parts in bringing out the best in their pupils through their art work.

The Field PTA placed $25 for each of the four award winners in the Association's scholarship and loan fund. The new honorary life members received blue and gold pins.

Mrs. B. N. Howell, Founders Day chairman, introduced the four other PTA members, who in turn surprised the recipients with their awards. They were Mrs. James Stivers, Mrs. Donald Rounds, Mrs. Jack Paschall and Mrs. John Kane.

The Field PTA placed $25 for each of the four award winners in the Association's scholarship and loan fund. The new honorary life members received blue and gold pins.

Horton Stars In Playhouse Social Satire

Descending on stage at the Pasadena Playhouse Thursday, March 6, with the barage of meritment always accompanying the appearance of comedian Edward Everett Horton, comes London's social satire, "The Reluctant Debutante," co-starring Laura LaPlante.

Horton proves a philosophical onlooker to the annual rat race of the social set, with pointed observations on women, wooing, wiles and Who's Who.

Exemplifying the teenager who could not care less about "coming out," captivating a male, or attending the correct social functions is Patti Kane, who subsequently changes her mind with the advent of young Michael Carey, a choice which horrifies her mother: "My dear, you should just hear what kind of a reputation he has!"

ALSO IN the cast are Paul Stickles as the chap who gets the nod from Mama and from rival matrons with daughters in the running, Sleanor Faust with Patti Slack doing a mother and daughter team competing for the high stakes (a man) against Miss LaPlante's entry, under direction by Gail Shoup.

Record crowds are expected for the Pasadena premiere Thursday and continuing nightly at 8:30, with the exception of Mondays when the Playhouse is dark.

PORTRAYING an over-anxious mother of a disinterested adolescent, silent film favorite Laura LaPlante is seen to retain the glamour of her siren days, with the added grace of maturity.

Nothing could prove more frustrating to an ambitious mother on the prowl after husband material for daughter than having the girl turn up reluctant.

Edward Everett Horton starring with Laura LaPlante in "The Reluctant Debutante," hit comedy coming to the Pasadena Playhouse March 6, marvels at the late society news with "deb daughter" Patti Kane.

OFFICIAL 1960 OLYMPIC EMBLEM—The official symbol for the 1960 Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley has been selected from among more than 600 preliminary designs and will be imprinted on posters, windshields and baggage stickers for world-wide distribution. Rehearsals For Ramona Start in Hemet

Preparations for the 31st annual staging of the famed Ramona Outdoor Play, California's most beautiful theatrical spectacle, will get underway this week when rehearsals start in the historic Ramona Bowl in Hemet.

Under the direction of Ralph Freud, of the Theater Arts Department of UCLA, Actress Sandra T. DeBow, of the Pasadena Community Playhouse, will take over the role of Ramona, for the first time and Maurice Jara, of Claremont, will play his role of the Indian hero, Alessandro, for his seventh season.

More than 350 residents of the San Jacinto Valley will gather at the Ramona Bowl, to start preparing for their individual participation in this episodic drama of early California life.

Though many of the townspeople of Hemet and San Jacinto are appearing in the play for the first time, there are quite a few who are "regulars," having almost grown up with the yearly presentation.

Joining the company in a new role this year is Dean Long, an English and drama teacher at the San Jacinto High School. He will take over the important role of Father Salvaderra.

Reservations for the dramatization of Helen Hunt made by mail order to the Jackson's historic novel, may Ramona Pageant Association, Box 218, Hemet, Calif., or at the ticket office of the Southern California Music Co., 737 So. Hill St. in Los Angeles, or the Palmer Box Office in the Theatre Music Co., 640 Broadway, San Diego.

You can't expect to be a credit to your community if you owe every store in town.

'Las Canacuas' Opens 7-Week Padua Hills Run

The Island of Janitzio in Lake Patzcuaro, Michoacan, serves as the beautiful setting for "Las Canacuas," which opened a seven-week run at Padua Hills Theatre last week.

"Las Canacuas," or festival of the wreaths, is a classical festival of hospitality which originated in Michoacan, in which native girls offer gifts of flowers and fruit from the countryside to visitors, among which are the marigolds with their fragrance symbolizing the beauty, wit, warmth, and grace of that area.

Festive songs and dances add to the romantic setting as The Mexican Players present this comedy.

Featured in the production are the comedy antics of Luis Abundiz and Ausencio Gutierrez, while romance is carried by lovely Antonieta Sepulveda and Rogelio Alfaro.

The three act comedy is presented Wednesday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. with matinees each Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30.

The Mexican Players are also featured during luncheon and dinner daily except Mondays in the dining room of non-profit Padua Institute. Reservations for theatre and dining room may be made at LY 6-1288.

Valley Symphony To Feature Works Of Strauss, Mozart

"Music from Four Centuries" will be the theme of the program of the San Gabriel Valley Orchestra's Sunday afternoon concert at Clifton School Auditorium in Monrovia, at 3 o'clock.

The concert will also feature the annual appearance of the Junior Symphony playing as its contribution to the general theme, a 19th century composition, a top favorite in recordings of classic music, Johann Strauss, "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

The soloist for the March

9th concert, Dwight Carver, will bring the 18th Century giant Mozart, in his Horn Concerto No. 3 for the French Horn.

The feature length work of the senior orchestra will be from Shostakovich's 20th Century Symphony No. 5 in four movements.

The 17th Century will be represented by a group of French and Italian dances for string orchestra by composers Corelli, Couperin, Vivaldi and Purcell.

STUDENT COUNCIL members at Sierra Madre School look over map of school playground. Improvement of the playground is one of many projects now being studied by the council. Standing on the table are Janet Bettencourt and Johnny Obazawa. At the table are Vicki Potosa, council secretary, and Terry Weir, president.

Student Council Helps Solve School Problems

Edward Hawkins, principal of Sierra Madre Elementary School, is directing the activities of the newly formed Student Council, comprised of representatives from the second through the sixth grades.

These 15 representatives and their alternates, chosen on the basis of leadership and good citizenship, meet with the principal each Thursday at 1 p.m. to discuss current problems pertaining to the student body.

Primarily, the council is a planning group. Members bring problems for discussion and then allocate responsibility to the right authorities. The students do not control school policies but they do have an opportunity to express opinions.

ONE OF THE first council projects was the writing of material for the PTA newsletter. From this beginning, a journalism club, outside the council and composed of students chosen by teachers for their interest and ability, was formed and now meets with the principal to outline stories to be covered. With the individual teacher's editorship, this group now supplies nearly two pages of student news for each issue of the Newsletter.

The handling of athletic equipment was another problem discussed by the council, and the responsibility for getting this equipment in and off the playground was given to Phillip Mitchell's sixth grade.

Safety, another matter brought to the council's attention, resulted in the formation of a special committee made up of fifth and sixth grade students, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Carr.

In order to allow students to take an active part in the morning assemblies, held on the school grounds during good weather, a program has been set-up whereby, with the help of their teachers, student leadership is rotated among classes. This ceremony includes the flag salute, announcements, a daily rule reminder and a patriotic song.

AN IMPORTANT problem now being discussed is that of playgrounds. Since the school suffers from crowded playground conditions, it is the goal of the principal, teachers and students to create a maximum degree of safety through a minimum of rules. The present study includes how best to improve, not only safety conditions, but the allocation of equipment and the scheduling of playground groups.

Mr. Hawkins said that one of the big values of Student Council activities is the feeling of the students that they are participating in the organization and helping to do their part in carrying out the school program.

He also believes the council gives members invaluable experience in leadership and enables the administration to gain direct contact with student thought.

CEC-Cenco Merger Talks Broken Off

Negotiations for a combination of Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp., Pasadena, and Cenco Instruments Corp., Chicago, have been broken off, according to a joint announcement by Consolidated Board Chairman Philip S. Fogg and Alfred A. Strelsin, president, Cenco Instruments.

Although no detailed explanation was offered, Fogg said:

"It does not appear feasible to consider further, at the present time, the proposed combination, primarily because of difficulties in merging the personalities of the two organizations into one."

Announcement was made in January that preliminary agreement had been reached between Consolidated and Cenco for a possible combination of the two companies, with an exchange of stock on the basis of three shares of Cenco for one share of Consolidated.

CHERRY PIE QUEEN... Barbara Chisholm, 16, of Huntsville, Ala., won 26th annual National Cherry Pie Baking Contest in Chicago in competition with girls from 48 states, Alaska, Canada and Hawaii.

Modern Diet Principal Cause of Dental Problems

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D., L.A. County Health Officer

True far, reparative dentistry and oral hygiene have failed to stem the tide of tooth troubles. Dental decay remains the most common physical defect among school children, and, among older persons the line of the German poet, Goethe, is still to the point: "to look at teeth without envy, that is the greatest trial of mine, an old man."

It is quite generally agreed that civilized food habits provide the principal causes of our dental problem. The experts point to the example of primitive tribes such as the aborigines of Australia, who rarely suffer from caries.

The high immunity which many savages have for tooth decay is, so it seems, the result of eating a very wide variety of food items, many in the raw state, and most of which require vigorous mastication.

WHETHER OR NOT civilized man can ever achieve complete freedom from tooth decay is still a question that remains unanswered. It is unlikely that mass food habits could ever be altered enough to achieve the end by this means.

However, the greatest hope in preventive dentistry revolves around the possibility of somehow developing teeth with a high resistance to decay. As a matter of fact, much progress has already been achieved along this line.

The topical application of fluorides to the teeth of children during certain intervals of their growth has shown beneficial effects. And it is now generally agreed that the fluoridation of drinking water used by children while their teeth are forming will reduce the development of caries by approximately 60 per cent throughout their lives.

Indeed, one study on fluoridation showed that children who received water treated in this way, even after teeth were fully formed, derived some benefits from the use of the treated water.

BUT the remaining problem would be enormous even if a 60 per cent reduction in the number of cavities in the teeth of all school children were possible. One estimate states that there are at least 300 million cavities in children's teeth today and that some decay exists in nearly every American child.

Regardless of the protection that research has been able to provide, the basic line of oral defense in life-long oral health remains the same today as it has always been, for young as well as old.

Probably the most important defensive measure for the oral health of youngsters is a generous daily selection of foods from each of the seven basic food groups and the avoidance of much refined sugars. This is most important because the early formative years are the period when life-long resistance to tooth decay must be built-in through nutrition if it is to be done at all.

BUT REGARDLESS of fluoridated water, diet, the age of an individual or other factors, it is just as important today as it ever was to brush the teeth properly after each meal (or rinse vigorously if this isn't possible) and to see a dentist at least once each year for prophylactic treatment and repair of tooth damage while it is still minimal.

Talks Planned To Interpret Degas Art Show

Talent Search Semi-Finals Set Sunday

After six weeks of preliminary auditions 16 acts in the junior division and 20 in the intermediates in the Search for Talent contest have advanced to the semi-finals, due to appear on the Civic Auditorium stage on Sunday afternoon, March 9, at 2 p.m.

The Pasadena Department of Recreation and the Exchange Club of Pasadena, co-sponsors, said this was one of the closest preliminaries experienced in its 23 years of functioning.

The contest, open to those living in or attending school in the Pasadena City School District, affords many opportunities to young amateur entertainers. In addition to performing before large audiences, contestants are rated by qualified judges on meritorious accomplishment in the classes of piano, vocal, instrumental and variety.

From the acts appearing in the semi-finals on Sunday afternoon, 23 will be chosen to compete for the Sweepstakes Trophy or gold, silver and bronze medals, in the finals to be held later, March 23. Both shows are at the Civic Auditorium, open to the public, without charge. The doors open one half hour before curtain.

HOBBY SHOW — Even five-year-olds can be interested in hobbies. Here, little Tommy Blankenship works on a model of a World War I German fighter plane. Planes, boats and trains will have feature places in the 10th Anniversary of the California Hobby Show at Shrine Exposition Hall, March 7-16.

YWCA to Hear Mrs. Cranston Tuesday

Mrs. Earl Cranston of Claremont will be guest speaker when electors of Pasadena YWCA meet for dinner March 4 in Pasadena YWCA.

Mrs. Cranston, well known for her community work in use of some 10,000 unreserved. Pasadena, will talk about the world reach of the YWCA. The meeting, planned by the agenda committee, will be presided over by Mrs. Loyal K. King, president. General arrangements are under the direction of the membership committee, headed by Mrs. William Dixon, chairman. Mrs. Robert Rowell is chairman of the evening's program.

A special feature will be a round-the-table discussion of questions pertaining to the YWCA in our present world situation. The results of these discussions will be used as directives by the delegates who will be representing the local association at the national convention to be held in St. Louis this month.

Garden Notes . . .

Early Spring Best Time To Buy Blooming Camellias

Gardeners love to shop for plants when they are in bloom. That is why roses in containers are such popular buys. Winter and early spring are the best times for selecting camellias blooming in containers, reminds the California Association of Nurserymen.

It is best to select camellias when in bloom for only by seeing the individual shrub can a gardener judge whether the plant's habit will fit into the garden site selected for it. Also, the difficulty of choosing from the hundreds of beautiful varieties is easier when the gardener can see many of the popular varieties before him.

SINCE CAMELLIAS differ somewhat in their sun tolerance in California, a local nurseryman's advice should be obtained prior to selection of a camellia variety. Among the popular varieties in California (and in hot-houses in the colder areas) are Alba Plena, a large white formal double camellia; Debutante, a medium sized full peony, light pink variety with an upright growth habit, and Kumakura, a large double rose of peony form in rose pink.

Camellia plants are quite hardy (0 to 10 degrees usually). However, the flower buds may be injured if temperatures fall to near that level. Camellias also grow well in tubs which may be moved about for desired effects in the garden.

Camellia culture follows some simple but precise rules. Among them are the necessity for planting in slightly acid, perfectly drained soil. Soil must be kept moist.

THE SHRUB prefers semi-shaded locations such as the north side of a structure or the east if the eastern exposure has less than a half-day's sun and does not involve too much reflected heat. In its native habitat the plant receives filtered

People who can't see any deeper than the paint are sometimes fooled by the finish.

"Our success in this campaign means a great deal to the well-being of our city during the current year."

Judge Stanley Mosk To Speak in Pasadena

A major meeting of the current political campaign featuring Judge Stanley Mosk, officially endorsed candidate for attorney general, will be held at Hamilton School, 2089 Rose Villa St., Pasadena, March 10 at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of nine Democratic clubs of this area.

Joseph L. Wyatt Jr., of Pasadena, chairman of the California Democratic Council, will preside at the meeting, which will be open to the general public.

The subject of Judge Mosk's address—"Is There a Crisis in Crime?"—is one to which the speaker brings a background of 22 years as a member of the California bar.

Judge Stanley Mosk

and 15 years as a member of the Superior Court of Los Angeles. He has been active in initiating steps to speed the administration of justice in the state.

Dr. D. R. Sharpe, chairman of the 48th A.D. Democratic Council, will also speak; and endorsed candidates for office from this area will be introduced.

The clubs sponsoring this joint meeting include the Sierra Madre Democratic Club, Mrs. Thomas Lathe, president; Arcadia Women's Democratic Club, Mrs. Ruth Wheeler, president; Monrovia Democratic Club, Michael Cherry, president; and Adlai Stevenson Democratic Club of Altadena, Tom Apostol, president.

Also, Franklin Delano Roosevelt Democratic Club of Pasadena, John R. Crowe, president; Altadena-Pasadena Young Democrats, Gareth Sadler, president; Democratic Women's Club of Pasadena, Mrs. John Norton, president; and La Crescenta Democratic Club, Herbert Childs, president.

When Judge Mosk was appointed to fill a Los Angeles court vacancy in 1942, he was only 30 years old, the youngest Superior Court judge in California history. He was re-elected in 1944, receiving the highest number of votes ever cast for a judge in a contested election in this state, and since then has been re-elected without opposition. Among his contributions to improvements of the administration of justice has been his introduction of pre-trial conferences, an experiment which worked so successfully that it has been adopted for all courts in California.

The affair begins at 8:30 p.m. and guests will dance to the music of Steve La Fave and his five-piece orchestra.
